Memo to File:

RE: Universal Uranium Company
White Jack Uranium Mine
ACT/015/023
Emery County, Utah

On April 8, 1982, Tom Tetting and Suan Linner of the Division visited the site of the White Jack Uranium Mine. The site is reached by turning west off of U.S. Highway 50-6 at a sign marked Buckmaster Reservoir, Tidwell Draw. A power substation marks this intersection. The mine site lies in Buckmaster Draw.

This mine was never given an approved permit and has been abandoned since mid-1980. A sign is present on-site, along with numerous roads, a mine entry, numerous drill holes, a waste rock pile, some trash, and several plugged or washed out culverts. The mine shaft has been closed with cyclone fencing. However, a child could squeeze around the left side or underneath, where a gully has been eroded. Many of the drill holes in the area have not been sealed or covered. Since a surface facilities map has never been received for this mine, it is difficult to tell who is responsible for the disturbance. These claims have recently been transferred to Energy Benefits Explorations Corporation who have committed to providing the Division with a detailed topographic map of disturbance associated with the White Jack operations.
